The Armor Your Self™ Facilitator Program

Let us guide your people to facilitate our material!

“If we don't take care of our people, they won't be able to take care of THE PEOPLE!”

We work with law-enforcement professionals and other first responders and their organizations who want to be at their best. Our focus is wellness and resilience. The Law Enforcement Survival Institute is supported by subject matter experts on a variety of topics around the areas of wellness, resilience, human performance and improving organizational culture. We can train your people or guide your chosen people to facilitate our material.
